

A Red Sea

By: Kiara Little

I took The Red Sea Picture on my summer vacation to Oregon. This elegant picture was taken at the Red Hills State Park in the west. When I took the picture, I was using my blue canon camera. Right then, I knew this picture would be very vibrant, graceful, and popular to the world. I then brought it back to school and uploaded it on the computer. I used CES Portfolios Y; and logged into STLP Pics. After that, I logged into Pic Monkey and cropped my picture, added more vibrant colors by changing the contrast, and added my name. Then I saved it On CES Portfolios Y.
